VELOX extends its plastics portfolio by VEMAB[®] PEEK

VELOX is a leading European distributor of speciality materials for the plastics industry. The Hamburg-based company is an established distributor of highly innovative raw materials and provides its customers with an expert, personalised service thanks to its experienced Sales staff.

In cooperation with its development laboratory, VELOX is producing compounds based on polyether ether ketone (PEEK) under its own brand name VEMAB[®] PEEK. The new product range includes various glass and carbon fibre reinforced plastics, tribologically optimised formulas as well as customer-specific solutions for extrusion and injection moulding applications.

Additionally, VELOX is offering unmodified PEEK in three different viscosities in granulate and powder form for compounding, extrusion, compression and injection moulding.

“The aim is to bring a high-quality material at a competitive price to the marketplace providing professional technical service and an efficient supply chain. We believe that due to our flexible production and logistics structures we are able to promptly fulfil the requirements of our customers,” comments Ekaterina Boës, Business Development Manager at VELOX.

VELOX will be present at the K-Show from the 19th to 26th of October 2016 in Dusseldorf in hall 6 at booth A23. Our expert team will be pleased to give you more details about the PEEK product range.
